S&RC sets new civil servant admission price for IMAX

The U.S. Space & Rocket Center's IMAX presentation policy for Marshall civil servants and retirees has changed from free admission to half off the regular admission price for civil servants and immediate family members — spouse and dependent children under 21 who are living at home. Civil servants and retirees still have free access to the museum, bus tour, simulators and gift shops. For details, call Cassandra Pitts in the Government and Community Relations Department at 544-4577.
